A Memoir

In February 2020, I boarded the Diamond Princess cruise ship for a dream vacation to Southeast Asia. Little did I know that within a matter of days, the world would be plunged into a global pandemic and I would be trapped on board, quarantined for over a month.

In this gripping memoir, I share my firsthand account of the unfolding crisis. From the initial confusion and fear to the boredom and loneliness of isolation, I paint a vivid picture of life on a cruise ship during an unprecedented time.

I chronicle the daily routines, the medical procedures, and the emotional toll of being confined to a small space with hundreds of other passengers. I share the stories of the crew members who risked their own health to care for us, and the passengers who formed unlikely bonds in the face of adversity.

Through it all, I never lost hope. I found solace in writing, reading, and connecting with my loved ones back home. I learned the importance of resilience, gratitude, and the human spirit's ability to prevail even in the darkest of times.

COVID in Cruise Ship is a powerful and moving story that will resonate with anyone who has been affected by the pandemic. It is a testament to the human spirit's ability to overcome adversity and a reminder that even in the most challenging of circumstances, there is always hope.
