Fishing

Hinsdale County is home to some of the best fishing in Colorado. With over 1,000 miles of rivers and streams, and more than 100 alpine lakes, there's a spot for every angler to find their perfect catch.

The most popular fish species in Hinsdale County include:

- Rainbow trout
- Brown trout
- Cutthroat trout
- Brook trout
- Mountain whitefish

The best time to fish in Hinsdale County is during the summer months, when the water is warm and the fish are active. However, there are some great fishing opportunities year-round, especially in the tailwaters below dams.

If you're new to fishing, there are a number of guide services and fishing shops in Hinsdale County that can help you get started.

Floating

Floating is a great way to relax and enjoy the beauty of Hinsdale County. There are a number of different rivers and streams that are suitable for floating, including the Rio Grande, the Gunnison River, and the Lake Fork of the Gunnison River.

The most popular float trips in Hinsdale County range from short day trips to multi-day expeditions. No matter what your experience level, there's a float trip that's perfect for you.

If you're planning a float trip, there are a few things you need to keep in mind:

- Water levels: Always check the water levels before you go floating. High water levels can be dangerous, and low water levels can make it difficult to float.
- Weather: Be sure to check the weather forecast before you go floating. Thunderstorms can be dangerous, and strong winds can make it difficult to control your boat.
- Safety gear: Always wear a life jacket when you're floating. Other safety gear, such as a whistle and a throw rope, is also a good idea.

Camping and Hiking

In addition to fishing and floating, Hinsdale County is also a great place for camping and hiking. There are a number of campgrounds located throughout the county, and there are miles of hiking trails to explore.

If you're planning a camping or hiking trip, be sure to check the following resources:

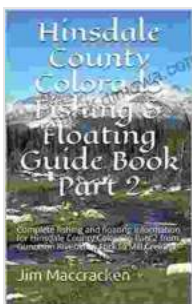

- US Forest Service website
- Bureau of Land Management website
- Colorado Tourism website

Planning Your Trip

If you're planning a trip to Hinsdale County, there are a few things you should keep in mind:

- Lodging: There are a number of different lodging options available in Hinsdale County, including hotels, motels, and cabins. Be sure to book your accommodations in advance, especially during the peak season.
- Food: There are a number of restaurants and grocery stores located in Hinsdale County. However, it's always a good idea to bring some extra food with you, especially if you're planning on camping or hiking.
- Transportation: The best way to get around Hinsdale County is by car. However, there is also public transportation available, including a bus service that connects Hinsdale County with the rest of Colorado.

We hope this guide has helped you plan your next fishing and floating adventure in Hinsdale County, Colorado. With its stunning scenery, abundant wildlife, and endless opportunities for recreation, Hinsdale County is the perfect place to experience the beauty of the Rocky Mountains.
