Buck Creek is a beautiful, spring-fed stream that meanders through the heart of Logan County. Its clear waters are home to a variety of fish species, including rainbow trout, brown trout, smallmouth bass, and bluegill. Buck Creek is a great spot for both fly fishing and spin casting, and it offers excellent fishing opportunities throughout the year.

The Scioto River is the largest river in Logan County, and it offers a wide range of fishing opportunities. The river's main channel is home to catfish, sauger, walleye, and channel catfish. Backwaters and side channels provide excellent habitat for largemouth bass, bluegill, and crappie. The Scioto River is a great option for boat fishing, bank fishing, and kayak fishing.

Indian Lake is a large reservoir located in the northeastern part of Logan County. The lake is home to a variety of fish species, including largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, walleye, crappie, and bluegill. Indian Lake is a great option for boat fishing and ice fishing.

Rush Creek is a small stream that flows through the southern part of Logan County. The creek is home to a variety of fish species, including smallmouth bass, bluegill, and sunfish. Rush Creek is a great spot for fly fishing or ultralight tackle fishing.

Big Darby Creek is a scenic stream that flows through the northwestern part of Logan County. The creek is home to a variety of fish species, including trout, bass, and bluegill. Big Darby Creek is a great spot for fly fishing or spin casting.

Logan County offers a wide range of targeted fish species, including:

- Rainbow trout
- Brown trout
- Smallmouth bass
- Largemouth bass
- Walleye
- Channel catfish
- Sauger
- Crappie
- Bluegill
- Sunfish

The best time to fish for each species varies depending on the water temperature and spawning cycles. However, in general, the spring and fall months are the best times to fish for most species.

Before you head out to fish in Logan County, it's important to be familiar with the local regulations. The Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR) regulates fishing in the state, and there are specific rules and regulations for each body of water.

You can find the ODNR's fishing regulations online at <https://ohiodnr.gov/wps/portal/gov/odnr/discover-and-learn/safety-conservation/about-ODNR/fishing-regulations>.

The type of gear you need for fishing in Logan County will depend on the species you're targeting and the water you're fishing. However, here are some general recommendations:

- Rod: A medium-action spinning rod or fly rod is a good all-purpose rod for fishing in Logan County.
- Reel: A spinning reel or fly reel with a smooth drag is essential for fighting fish.
- Line: The type of line you use will depend on the species you're targeting. For trout fishing, a 4-pound test monofilament line is a good choice. For bass fishing, a 10-pound test line is a good option.
- Lures and baits: The type of lures and baits you use will depend on the species you're targeting. For trout, small spinners and spoons are a good choice. For bass, crankbaits and soft plastic baits are a good option.

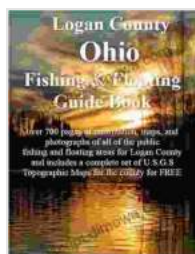

Logan County offers a wide range of amenities for anglers, including bait and tackle shops, boat launches, and campgrounds. Here are some of the most popular places to go:

- Buck Creek Bait and Tackle: Buck Creek Bait and Tackle is a full-service bait and tackle shop located in the Village of Buck Creek. They offer a wide range of bait, tackle, and fishing supplies.

- Indian Lake State Park: Indian Lake State Park is a large park located on the shores of Indian Lake. The park offers a variety of amenities for anglers, including boat launches, campgrounds, and fishing piers.
- Scioto Trail State Park: Scioto Trail State Park is a large park located on the banks of the Scioto River. The park offers a variety of amenities for anglers, including boat launches, campgrounds, and fishing piers.
