A Collection of Enthralling Novellas

The Constable David Maratse Omnibus Edition brings together a captivating collection of novellas that showcase the full breadth of Maratse's investigative prowess. Each novella delves into a separate case, exploring diverse themes of crime, corruption, and the human condition. From the chilling murder of a young woman to the intricate web of deceit surrounding a local politician, Maratse's tenacity and unwavering pursuit of justice are put to the test.

"The Shadow of the Mountain": Facing the Darkness Within

In the gripping opening novella, "The Shadow of the Mountain," Maratse finds himself drawn into a chilling murder investigation. The victim, a young woman named Thandi, is found brutally killed on the outskirts of the township. As Maratse delves deeper into the case, he uncovers a web of secrets and long-buried grudges that point to a suspect closer to home than anyone could have imagined.

"The Serpent's Tongue": Unmasking the Facade of Corruption

The second novella, "The Serpent's Tongue," takes Maratse into the treacherous world of political corruption. When a local politician is found dead under suspicious circumstances, Maratse must navigate a labyrinth of deception and hidden agendas. As he closes in on the truth, he uncovers a sinister plot that threatens to unravel the very fabric of his community.

"The Ghosts of the Past": Confronting the Legacy of Apartheid

In "The Ghosts of the Past," Maratse confronts the lingering shadows of apartheid when a series of racially motivated attacks terrorizes the township. As he investigates these heinous crimes, he uncovers a disturbing connection to the dark history of his country. Maratse must grapple with the enduring wounds of the past while fighting to ensure that justice prevails in the present.
