With its spine-tingling tales of suspense, horror, and the supernatural, this book is perfect for fans of Edgar Allan Poe, H.P. Lovecraft, and Stephen King. But be warned, these stories are not for the faint of heart.

In the opening story, "The Tell-Tale Heart," a young man confesses to murdering his elderly neighbor. As he recounts the gruesome details of his crime, the reader is drawn into a world of madness and obsession.

In another story, "The Fall of the House of Usher," a young man visits his friend, Roderick Usher, who lives in a crumbling mansion with his sister, Madeline. As the storm rages outside, the two men explore the dark secrets of the Usher family.

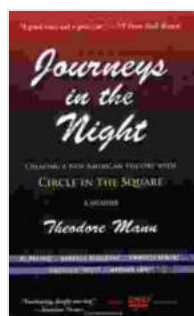

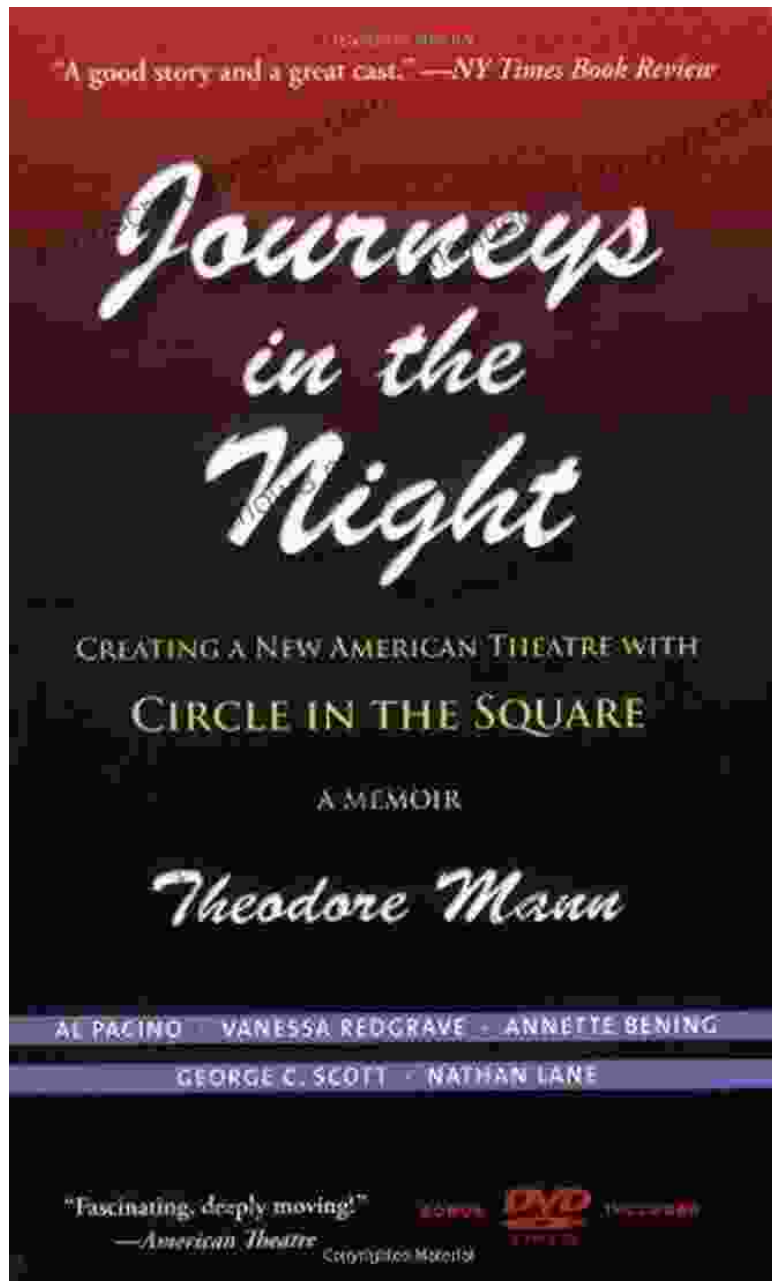

And in the final story, "The Masque of the Red Death," a group of wealthy aristocrats gather in a castle to escape the plague. But their revelry is cut short when a mysterious figure appears, wearing a red mask.

These are just a few of the chilling tales that you'll find in Journeys In The Night Applause Books. If you're looking for a book that will keep you on the edge of your seat, then this is the book for you.
